Susan Rabe, Sharon Wilkerson,
John Mohr, Colleen Harms, Deanna
Schmidt.

We the class of '75, so young and restless,
have discovered the wide horizons that lie
before us; widening with each new day that begins.

All the memories that linger can never be forgotten;
The English stories written; the lollipops in class;
our American Graffiti; and the togetherness as a class
that we never felt.

Some of us born to be wild;
Caught up in the worlds pleasures and disappointments;
Searching for answers, which way to go;
For these reasons we will never be forgotten.

With our futures ahead, and good ole' days behind,
Our success and happiness to be delivered.
Remember us as learning children,
Because there will never again, be a class like 1975.

Where's the game?

Safe!!

What goes up . . .

Which way, Coach?

Right here.

No one works harder than these service people at keeping Gladbrook School going. Fixing meals, cleaning up after us, and driving us to school, putting in many hours of hard work.

Busy cooks in the kitchen are Audrey Thompsen, Gladys Bolt, Elaine Thede, and Evelyn Bern.

Working behind the scenes and after hours, Ruth Jacobs is busy cleaning for the next school day.

Maintenance men Earl Claussen and Kenneth Lowry work hard to keep the school clean and running smoothly and efficiently.

Bus drivers: Irwin Ladehoff, Henry Mentel, Dan Bruene, Ruth Mentel, and Eileen Rosenberger.

JUNIOR FLOAT TAKES FIRST PLACE

The Juniors worked long and hard to capture the number one spot in the float contest during the Homecoming festivities with the slogan, "They'll Never 'Ketchup' To Us". The Junior attendant was Judy Clark. Other activities that the Juniors worked hard on were concession stand and the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. The Juniors earned money with the concession stand at basketball games and wrestling meets. Much of the money was spent on Prom. They used the theme: "Airport 1975".

ONE ACT PLAYS

They always say that the third time is a charm but this year the One Act Plays proved it. It took two postponements before the final performance arrived. The directors for the plays were as follows: "Feudin' Mountain Boys"--Trudi Scott, Doug Woebbekking, Kim Halverson, Lori Wickersham, and Cathy Osten; "Love Hits Wilbur"--Mike Bearden, Randy Beichley, Frank Utterbank, Bob Peterson, and Henry Britton; and "The Heir of the Aardwolf"--Sharon Wilkerson, Colleen Harms, Mary Marquardt, Julie Johannsen, and Doug Petersen. The following are highlights from these three comedies.
